ANNUAL REPORT

Outer Banks
COMMUNITY
Foundation

Connecting people who care with causes that matter.

Letter of Gratitude

Dear friends,

Together, we've witnessed a lot of change in recent years. Natural disasters and global pandemics notwithstanding, the Outer Banks has experienced a booming economy, labor and housing shortages, market volatility, supply chain issues, new technologies – the list is seemingly endless.

Fortunately, some things never change. At the Outer Banks Community Foundation, our gratitude to you is endless. The willingness of our community to stand shoulder to shoulder and face our biggest challenges continues, generation after generation. Your generosity has never wavered. To the donors, civic leaders, nonprofit professionals, and volunteers who are with us on the philanthropic journey our founders began 40 years ago - thank you.

We also want to thank those of you who have answered the call to join our family of supporters. Throughout its history, your Community Foundation has enjoyed a remarkable continuity of exemplary leadership. We have learned from those who came before us, building on their hard work to create a stronger organization. Every year, we renew our commitment through the election of new directors. This year is special; we are expanding our board to include more voices, more perspectives, and more capabilities. Together, we are embarking on a new strategic vision to inspire giving, action, and trust among our partners and neighbors.

In this annual report, we share stories that illustrate our dedication to philanthropy that is led collectively by our entire community. These stories are just a few examples of how our work with partners like you is guiding us toward our community's vision for the future.

Thank you for inspiring us and for joining us in building a greater Outer Banks.

Warmest regards,

Chris Sawin, President and CEO

Legacy Spotlight:

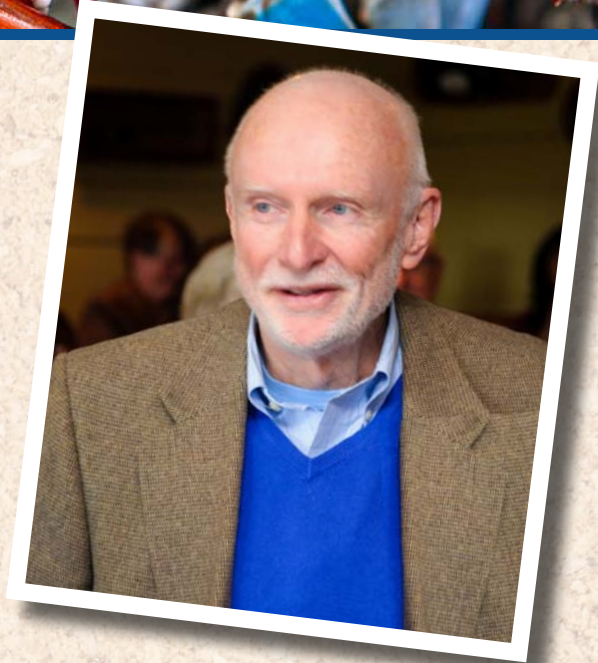

Founding Board Member Ray White

Ray White lives life with passion. He loves the Outer Banks like no place on earth and has helped shape our region's growth and culture as it has evolved from quiet fishing villages to today's tourist mecca. When Eddie Greene noted that the Outer Banks was one of the most generous and giving places he'd known, he most likely had his good friend and mentor Ray White in mind.

Ray grew up in Manns Harbor when ferry service connected Roanoke Island to mainland Dare and modern conveniences were few. His father built a store and ice plant before working as a merchant, Dare County Commissioner, and regional Representative in the NC General Assembly. His mother raised their three boys and ran the family's market at the ferry dock. When they weren't studying or doing chores, Ray and his brothers were outside being boys.

Growing up in the 1950s and 60s, it doesn't get much better than exploring, fishing, and hunting in the great outdoors. The boys built a camp on Durant Island to fuel their passions. Dad helped, and hardly a weekend passed when they weren't out on the water, on the edge of the Alligator River with the long expanse of waterway at their feet. These formative years instilled a sense of place and being that shaped Ray's life.

Ray graduated from East Carolina University in 1967 and returned home to a job as a teller at Planters Bank. Banks merged, times changed, and Ray rose to become President of the newly-formed OBX Bank. He helped dozens of local businesses get their start, and was known to be level-headed and pragmatic, but also considerate and generous with his time and advice.

"Ray has always been the most level-headed and conservative of the three boys," recalled his brother Stan. "When the three of us took ownership of the family store, Wade and I had to beat up on Ray to get him to spend money on anything," he said with a laugh.

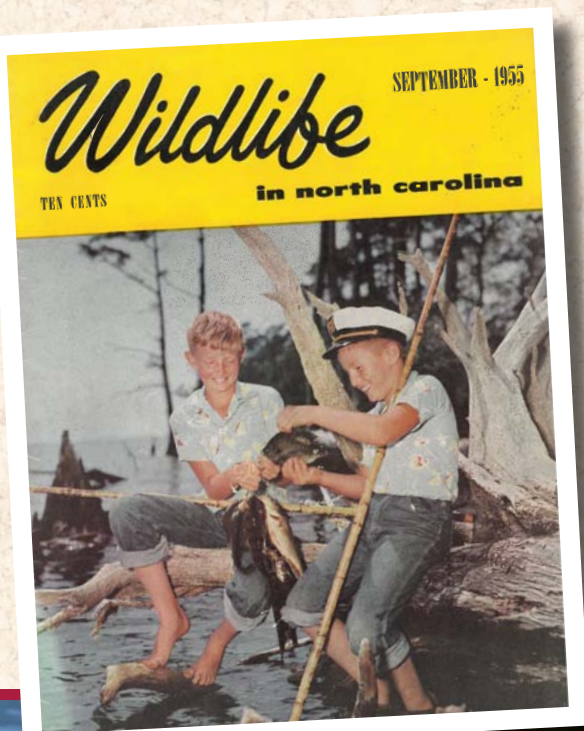

Ray jumped into leadership opportunities that came out of a booming Outer Banks, serving on several government and nonprofit boards. In 1982 David Stick approached Ray about joining a newly-formed Community Foundation Board of Directors. David's enthusiasm was infectious; the new board soon found themselves rolling up their sleeves and building from scratch. Soon resources were growing, new funds for special causes were created, and grants and scholarships to help children succeed and to support a growing number of nonprofits were on a steady roll.

"I'm so honored that I was picked to be one of the founders who got this started," Ray said. He served on the Community Foundation board three different times over nearly 40 years, for more than 16 years of service.

The last 40 years have seen rapid growth in Dare County, and that has fueled the growth of many local charities. "Lots of the people were moving here in their retirement years," said Ray. "They felt this was their place, and so they were willing to help it grow in the right direction." Ray and his colleagues on the board saw this as a way to garner needed support; they got the word out and invited everyone to 'put something back.'

Ray was serving on the board in 2005 and saw how a few large bequests transformed the Community Foundation's operating, grant, and scholarship assets. The Board established the David Stick Legacy Society as a way to honor their visionary leader and to encourage people who were passionate about the Outer Banks to give generously for future charitable purposes through bequest gifts. The potential benefit to the community would be significant since gifts by bequest are typically much larger than lifetime gifts. But change didn't happen overnight.

Ray and Stan White in 1955

Legacy Spotlight: Ray White

"It was a long, tedious amount of work before we were able to get people's attention," Ray recalled. He was one of those early board members who made their Legacy intentions known. Other board members joined the ranks, and community members followed.

The major legacy gifts made in those early years were invested, and today they support a hefty portion of all grants and scholarships made.

In November 2022, Ray was honored to receive the NC Order of the Long Leaf Pine award by Bob Woodard, Dare County Board of Commissioners Chairman, on behalf of Governor Cooper. Ray's 50 years of service on the ABC Board of Directors and his work with the Community Foundation and other charities were noted. "He has inspired generations of his neighbors," said Chairman Woodard. "Respected by all who know him, he is admired for his calm demeanor, his level-headed thinking, and his kind and giving spirit."

"More than any other individual," wrote Community Foundation CEO Chris Sawin, "Ray has been the bridge that has connected generations of Outer Banks philanthropists."

"It makes my heart want to explode when I see all the wonderful benefits that have accrued from this little foundation," said Ray. "Out of all I've done in 50 years, it has been the closest to my heart, and the most meaningful."

Linda, Ray and McKenzie.

New Funds Spotlight

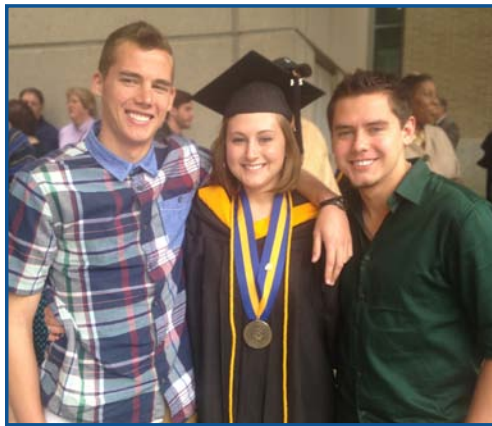

Outer Banks Road to Recovery Fund Focuses on Finding New Solutions for Addiction

A 2022 field of interest fund, established by an anonymous donor, will be behind grants to nonprofits that provide support to Outer Banks residents on their journeys to recovery from alcoholism and drug addiction. The fund will advance harm reduction efforts, connect more people to care, and increase public awareness. "This new fund is such an important gift to our community," said Chris Sawin. "Every family on the Outer Banks has been impacted by addiction. Our job is to grow this fund with the support of our entire community, and to provide funding for new solutions to the tragic crisis of addiction."

Seafood Festival Endowment Supports Working Watermen and Women

Fresh, delicious, abundant seafood has always been a key driver of our tourism industry, right up there with Outer Banks sunshine and surf. What many don't realize is that the commercial fishing industry is demanding work that takes its toll on working watermen. A new fund created by the organizers of the Outer Banks Seafood Festival (The Outer Banks Chamber of Commerce, The Outer Banks Visitors Bureau, N.C. Working Watermen's Association, and The Outer Banks Restaurant Association) will steward festival proceeds for future grants to the local fishing community and its members.

Emily Fredricks Memorial Fund for Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety

The Emily Fredricks Memorial Fund for Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety was created by Richard and Laura Fredricks of Becket, MA in memory of their daughter Emily (pictured left), who was tragically killed while biking to work in 2017. The fund will award grants to support local initiatives for making the Outer Banks safer for bicyclists and pedestrians. "Our goal is to honor Emily's memory in every way that we can," said Laura Fredricks. "We know there will always be a need for improved infrastructure and education surrounding vulnerable road users, and we welcome the opportunity to give back to the community where our family has made so many wonderful memories."

Helping Hand Cookie Jar Scholarship Supports Non-Traditional Students

Local realtor Karen DelVacchio established the Helping Hand Cookie Jar Scholarship Fund to provide need-based scholarships to non-traditional students who are pursuing an education after one or more years in the workforce. "Not everyone knows what they will do right out of high school. I created this fund for adults who want another shot at a career choice."

Emeritus Directors

The Outer Banks Community Foundation thrives because community leaders made extraordinary sacrifices as volunteer board members since 1982. They brought this organization to life, allowing them, in David Stick's words, to "participate actively and permanently in shaping the future of the Outer Banks, even after our departure. It is our way, individually and personally, of repaying our beloved Outer Banks for the wonders and contentment it has given us."

Community Foundation board and staff celebrated our 40th anniversary at a series of events in 2022, including the Backyard Birthday Bash at Outer Banks Brewing Station on October 15.

Community Enrichment Grant Highlights

St. John United Methodist Church in Avon received a grant to help Hatteras Island Community Strings establish a music program that focuses on children and offers community-based, free group music instruction. “The classes allow our students to gather together in a creative and supportive environment, using music as a springboard to learn and grow,” said Community Strings Executive Director Jessie Taylor.

Outer Banks Dare Challenge was awarded a grant to help prevent, treat, and fight addiction by expanding its facility in Wanchese. The larger facility will triple its capacity for housing individuals in its substance abuse treatment program. “Our expansion will enable more people to find freedom from their addictions,” said Dustin Daniels, Dare Challenge Executive Director.

Elizabethan Gardens received a grant that will help develop Plant ED, a program designed to nurture enthusiasm and competence for environmental science, including new summer camps for school-aged children that focus on nature, botany, horticulture, and gardening.

Water's Edge Village School in Corolla is a K-8 charter school that provides free, public education for children on our northern beaches. The school aspires to a rigorous, child-centered curriculum. A 2022 grant will help WEVS build a second academic building, expanding from its two-room, historic schoolhouse to accommodate a growing student body.

A grant to Dare Education Foundation will enhance learning with new classroom technology. Teachers will use more than 70 grant-funded document cameras that increase student engagement in class. “We use our document camera multiple times a day,” said Kitty Hawk Elementary School kindergarten teacher Ann Ball. “It allows me to project the pictures from our read-alouds in big, beautiful, colors on the screen so that everyone can see the pictures and words as we read.”

Ocracoke Preservation Society is restoring the historic Odd Fellows Lodge, a 1901 two-story wood frame building located on an acre of land near the center of Ocracoke Village. A 2022 Community Foundation grant is helping to pay for needed roof renovations. The Society’s vision is to have the lodge’s first floor serve as a centrally-located Welcome Center for island visitors; the second floor will house nonprofit administrative offices.

Grants from Donor-Advised Funds

The Wall That Heals is a replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall and a touring education center. The traveling exhibit will be installed in Nags Head in November 2023, thanks in large part to the generosity of John and Chris Kelley Cimko, establishers of the General P.X. Kelley Memorial Fund. The Cimkos made a grant to Dare County Motorsports Charity Group to cover the deposit needed to secure the tour's 2023 Dare County event. "It's wonderful to have a part in bringing The Wall That Heals to Dare County," said Chris Cimko. "I think my father would very pleased."

There's a special place for Corolla's horses in Wayne and Betty Evans' hearts. They put passion into action through a recent donor-advised fund grant from the Evans Family Fund to help their wild and free neighbors. "As residents of Corolla, we are drawn to help our community. The wild horses are synonymous with Corolla, so the Corolla Wild Horse Fund was a perfect fit for the Evans Family Fund," said Wayne. "When we initially met with Jo (Langone), we were very impressed with her love for the horses," Betty said. "After visiting the Sanctuary Farm and meeting Meg (Puckett) and the rest of the staff, we realized their dedication and expertise are essential to keeping these beautiful creatures safe and healthy."

Manteo-based Monday Night Alive has been offering tutoring, mentorship, hot meals, and field trips to college campuses for the better part of four decades. The program engages retired teachers, students, and community volunteers who tutor, encourage leadership, and inspire students to continue their education beyond high school. Frank and Lynda Hester are long-time supporters; their most recent gift was a grant from the Hester Family Legacy Fund in 2022 to the program. "Everyone can make a difference like Naomi Collins Hester, who co-founded Monday Night Alive to help children be the best they can be," said Lynda. "Monday Night Alive is wonderful for our kids and our community."

Matt and Sarah Spencer created the Spencer Family Fund to support causes they care deeply and personally about. In 2022, a gift from the Spencer fund supported an essential housing study in partnership with the Outer Banks Family YMCA. "Those of us who make our living through real estate sales and land development are fortunate to be part of such an inviting, vibrant community," said Sarah. "There is no better way to give back than supporting initiatives for essential housing on the Outer Banks. My family's charitable giving focuses on long-term solutions so that all members of our community can afford to live here."

About the Community Foundation

The Outer Banks Community Foundation is a public charity, founded in 1982, that helps donors, businesses, and organizations meet local needs in Dare County and across the Outer Banks, from Corolla to Ocracoke, by supporting the nonprofit sector and by targeting grants and scholarships toward our community's most pressing needs and promising opportunities.

The Community Foundation manages a collection of funds, created by different donors, businesses, and organizations at different times for different purposes. Donors may create funds during their lifetimes or by bequest, for general charitable purposes or for a particular purpose that they specify. The Community Foundation provides tailored services to help individuals, families, businesses, and other groups pursue their charitable interests easily, effectively, and with maximum tax benefit.

The Community Foundation's perpetual endowments are a resource for today and tomorrow. With the Outer Banks Community Foundation, people who love the Outer Banks can give back to the community they love to help meet today's pressing needs, while building a source of support for future generations.
